

DID STANDARD EVADE THE LAW

By Building Tanks At Center Bridge, Pennsylvania, To Get Around Hepburn Ruling?

GOVERNMENT CONTENDS THEY DID

Company Says That They Built Tanks On Advice Of Their Attorney--New Developments In The Complicated Case.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
New York, Sept. 25.—The pipe line station of the National Transit company, a Standard Oil corporation, at Centre Bridge, Pa., on the New Jersey state line, which the company contends is a terminal station, was built in 1906 on advice of John G. Milburn, counsel for the Standard Oil company.

It is contended by the government that the Centre Bridge station was built as a nominal delivery point in 1906 to evade the Hepburn act which provides that pipe line carriers shall submit schedules of tariff to their terminals.

In the government's view the company's real terminal is Bayonne, N. J. In today's hearing Milburn admitted he had advised the building of the heavy tanks.

SIR THOMAS GAME TO THE DECISION

Despite the Turndown by the New York Yacht Club of His Challenge He Makes a New One.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London, Sept. 26.—Sir Thomas Lipton, although bitterly disappointed at the failure of the New York Yacht club to accept his recent challenge, has prepared a challenge with a thirty-foot boat under the New York club rules. His challenge for an race for boats built under the new rule, to rate in the six-to-eight-foot class, and asked permission to build two challengers and sail with the fastest. But it failed to comply with the deed of gift in stipulating any water line or other dimensions of the challenging boat and was turned down for this reason.

ENVIOUS BOYS DROWN PLAYMATE IN TANK

Lads Push Youngster Into Water Tank Because He Has Better Craft Than Theirs.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, Sept. 26.—Envious boys are thought to have caused the drowning of Andrew Jenovine, a four-year-old lad, at his home in East 77th street. The children were sailing a home-made boat in the five-foot tank on the roof of the building which supplied it with water. With him were his little sisters and several other boys, three of them strangers. The strange boys were racing pieces of wood across the tank and they became jealous because Andrew's boat beat their ride craft. They demanded a chance to sail his boat and when he refused to give it up, they pushed him into the tank. His sister screamed and the trio ran away over the roof. Andrew's father dragged the boy from the bottom of the tank but he could not be revived.

SAUERKRAUT FEAST AN ANNUAL EVENT

Several Thousand Visitors Attend Celebration With Big Free Dinner As Feature of Program.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Ackley, Iowa, Sept. 26.—The annual celebration of "Sauerkraut Day," which has become established in this locality, took place today. Several thousand visitors attended the celebration and if there was any among them who did not get their fill of sauerkraut and wine, it was not because of any lack of hospitality on the part of the people of Ackley. There were sports and other entertainment in abundance on the day's program, but the big feature was the free dinner at which, according to estimate, fifteen barrel of kraut and more than 1,200 pounds of "red hot" weiners were consumed.

Special Committee to Investigate School Discipline Since Abolition of Corporal Punishment.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, Sept. 26.—The board of education has ordered an investigation to determine whether the abolition of corporal punishment has been beneficial or detrimental to the system. The inquiry will be conducted by a special committee to be appointed by President Winthrop. The opinions of superintendents and principals will be sought.

Moral smut is used entirely now in the schools in disciplining pupils. In the opinion of some school commissioners it has proved utterly inadequate to maintain good order and discipline.

Any return to corporal punishment will be bitterly contested, however. Many of the commissioners believe corporal punishment barbarous.

Commissioner Jones of Brooklyn introduced the resolution looking to the investigation. Immediately Commissioner Kanzler moved that it be laid on the table, but the motion to lay on the table was defeated by a vote of 19 to 10 and the original resolution was adopted.

THROUGH SEWER FOUR BLOCKS; OUT ALIVE

Laborer Dropped Into Manhole and Goes Four Blocks Underground, Coming Out into River.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, Sept. 26.—John Hoffman, 26 years old, an employee in the bureau of sewers, was dropped into a 5-foot sewer in Third avenue, near 125th street owing to the breaking of a rope and shot through the sewer to its terminus at Harlem river and 131st street, a distance of four blocks. That he came out alive is considered remarkable.

With several other employees, Hoffman was at work repairing the main sewer. They had almost finished their labor when a heavy rain storm started. Hoffman was down in the hole about four feet above the swiftly flowing water. Around his waist was a rope which was held by the men in the street above. As the water poured into the various sewers leading into the main pipe, the water rose higher and the rope broke and Hoffman fell into the water.

His fellow workmen instantly dashed up the avenue to 131st street where the sewer runs into the Harlem river. Just as they reached the spot, Hoffman shot out into the river. He landed near a bargeboat float, swam to it and held on until a policeman and workmen rescued him. After being given dry clothes he went home. He told the policeman that he went through the sewer so fast he "did not have time to look at the scenery."

Scope of Study Pursued in Medical School to be Enlarged—Insanity to be Closely Studied

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—The course that is about to begin at the Naval Medical School will be the most important in the history of that institution, as the department has arranged to enlarge a number of the subjects of observation and treatment. There will be special instruction in diseases of the eye, to which department some new apparatus and appliances for tests and demonstration have been added.

The fact that there is so much mental trouble as a result of service in the tropics has made it advisable to give the naval surgeons some information along that line, and to this end the experts attached to the Government Hospital for the Insane will be called upon to deliver lectures, which are the outgrowth of personal enmity on the part of Mr. Dowd.

When the Janeville high school football team meets the Beloit high school eleven they will find no easy playing. The Beloit boys are stronger than usual. They defeated the Academy aggregation 21 to 0 and in thirty minutes' play held the college squad down to four touchdowns.

CHARLES HOLT IS VETERAN EDITORIN POINT OF YEARS OF ACTUAL SERVICE.ONCE OWNER OF GAZETTEIs Now Owner of the Kankakee Gazette—Publishers' Auxiliary Publishes Following Story.

In a recent issue of the Auxiliary, published by the A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Company, the following sketch of Charles Holt is given. There are many residents of Janesville who remember Charles Holt when he was a resident here and one of the owners of the Gazette. The Auxiliary has the following to say:

"If there is a newspaper publisher or a printer in this country who has been hanging around a printing office for a longer time than has Mr. Charles Holt of the Kankakee (Ill.)

The prime purpose of this bill, as claimed by its advocates, is to secure uniform textbooks in the county schools—which, for the purpose of this article, we will concede to be a praiseworthy object.

Section 1 provides that at any annual county school board convention the question of adopting uniform textbooks may be voted on, each district to have one vote and a majority vote of all the districts in the county or superintendant district being necessary to an adoption of the law. But by sections 12 and 14 the law does not apply to high schools, graded schools and schools furnishing free-textbooks. This leaves only a part of the district schools to which the law can apply, so it must be regarded as a law primarily affecting the district schools only. In our superintendant district nearly one-half of the district schools supply free textbooks and just as soon as one-half of the district schools adopt the free-text system this law will be a dead letter so far as we are concerned because a majority of the districts will not exempt from its provisions and therefore it can never receive votes enough to be adopted. But aside from that if the law be adopted the convention is to immediately proceed to the election of a county board of education of five, or at least three members, each of which must be, according to section 5, a legally qualified teacher and have had at least five years' experience in teaching or supervision of public schools. In our superintendant district, which is a fair example of the average at least, there is not a single person living in the districts which would be affected by this law if adopted who would be eligible for membership on the board. The board would have to be chosen from the high school and graded school teachers but the books selected by them would have to be used by the district schools. It would seem that the persons in charge of the district schools were not deemed capable of choosing books for their own schools. Imagine a law which provided to prescribe a list of the makers of farm machinery which the farmers of the district would be compelled to use and that the members of the board were to be chosen from men living in towns, some of whom might be truck farmers who had never run a piece of farm machinery but still be eligible for membership on the board.

"After the suspension of the paper I was employed as Journeyman in several different offices, including several years in the Albany Evening Journal under the editorship of Thurlow Weed, and a varied experience in book and job office in New York city and occasional "subbing" on the New York Tribune when Horace Greeley was its editor and manager. Mr. Greeley had previously served as a legislative reporter on the Albany Journal and published a campaign weekly paper in Albany, "The Log Cabin." During that time I had learned to translate Greeley's hieroglyphics and become a qualified "sub" on his Tribune.

"My first vote was cast at a charter election in Albany. This sudden effort preceded a vote in 1833 for Wm. H. Seward for governor of New York, and for Gen. Marcy in the famous "hard cider and log cabin" election.

In 1841 I made a homing in Wisconsin after a 41 days' steamer trip from Buffalo. A two-days' trip on a four-horse stage coach deposited me in Madison with a night's rest in Janesville.

"Two years later I purchased a half interest in the Janesville Gazette and continued it until 1844, when I bought an interest in the Quincy White and remained with it until 1848.

I then purchased the paper and office with which I am now connected (the Kankakee Gazette). This schedule gives me a printing office record of 57 years and a publishing record of 59 years.

"In Wisconsin I was a zealous part of "Free Kansas" and the money contributor to her freedom. I published the last White paper in Wisconsin, and, as a member of the convention which organized the republican party in that state, was on the committee which reported the platform.

My connection with the Kankakee Gazette has been of 39 years' duration.

"I am undeniably among the oldest newspaper men of the United States, and few of that class, or none, have seen a longer continuous service, even when the number of years be counted by centuries.

Less than a year ago I turned 70, and the question is whether I can still continue my work.

AN EN-TEACHER.
Janesville, Wis., Sept. 25, 1907.THREE DEBATES FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOYSInnovation Planned For the High School Debating Societies
This Year.

Instead of one debate during the entire school year between the two debating teams of the Rusk Lyceum and the Forum debating societies, three will be held. This was the decision reached last evening to close up the business affairs and later go to Boulder, Colorado, where he will remain for some months at least for the benefit of Mrs. Grove's health. Mr. Grove brought back with him a copy of the Boulder Camera, which contains an interesting article on a plenly held on Sept. 29 of former Wisconsin people now in Boulder and the immediate vicinity. The Camera says:

"Yesterday the Wisconsin people in Boulder had one of the most delightful picnics ever held in or about Boulder. They spent the day on the Colorado Chataudine grounds, overlooking the city, back of them the towering "Flatirons" set like master jewels in the side of the hills, and making these the most beautiful hills in the state. In front of them the plains stretched off toward the horizon, checkerboarded with fields of grain and hay, and reminding one of the landscapes in some of the more eastern states. Such scenes are rare in this world and make one feel like throwing his hat in the air and shouting, with the old Indian, "Hurray for God!" There were seventy-five who waited for the sunset and watched the blue Colorado sky turn to gold and silver and crimson. Someway the 'old Indian' is always in sight in Colorado. And when the dusk had turned to darkness the seventy-five people turned homeward with a different feeling toward Colorado. They had come here, many of them, feeling that they were leaving their all behind to come to this promised land, and now they know that there are many of their old friends here. They did not merely enjoy the scenery, but they all enjoyed an excellent dinner, and they had such a good time talking about their old state that they determined to organize so that they could have a good time every year. None of them were sorry for coming to Colorado, however, and although they all appreciated the longitude paid to their native state by Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, Sept. 26, 1867.—Mrs. F. H. Dunton has our thanks for a bouquet of roses, verbenas, etc. It was very beautiful.

Their Prize.—The Excelsior Juniors baseball club, which won a prize at the tournament at Beloit, have secured the same in the shape of a silver ball which is made to represent a genuine one, stitches and all. It is a very pretty thing and the boys naturally feel very proud of it.

Common Council.—At the regular meeting of the common council last evening the mayor was in the chair and Alderman Bates, Skinner, Webster and Williams were present. The resignation of Joseph Baker, Esq., as Justice of the peace, was tendered to take effect on October 1 and was accepted. A. A. Jackson, Esq., appeared before the council and asked the reduction of taxes on real estate belonging to the Congregational church. Two communications were received from J. J. R. Pease in relation to improvements on Cornelia and Harmony streets. They were referred to the aldermen of the second ward, the city engineer and the city attorney. The report of the city engineer in reference to grading River street was received and placed on file. An order was passed to put up a lamp post at the corner of Cornelia and North Second streets. A special order was passed directing the clerk to make up a assessment roll for grading River street. By an order the city engineer was directed to prepare a profile of River street from Dodge street to Mineral Point road, 1st ward. Bills for paving River street were received and the further consideration of the matter was postponed until the next meeting of the council.

THE MADISON INTERURBAN

While there seems to be no immediate prospect that the Janesville-Madison interurban line will be built, because of the difficulty in securing money, it is well for Janesville and Edgerton to unite in a vigorous protest against the proposed extension of the Madison line to Stoughton.

This extension, if carried out, would seal the fate of the proposed line from Janesville, and would mean indefinite postponement. This would doubtless be gratifying to the Madison promoters, as well as to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road, whose line the interurban would parallel.

The fact is well recognized that the Darrow city is the natural market for Edgerton and Milton, while many Stoughton people visit the city every day. There is a strong sentiment in Stoughton in favor of the Janesville line, for the Capital city is not a trade center.

Experience has demonstrated that interurban roads stimulate travel wherever operated. The frequency of cars renders a time table unnecessary. They start from business centers, and land passengers in the heart of the city, saving bus fare and time.

On all short hauls they are sharp competitors of steam lines, and it is not at all surprising that the railroads oppose their construction. But these popular roads are still in their infancy, and the only surprising thing is that the steam lines do not appropriate and use them.

It is only a matter of time when the line to Madison will be built, and Janesville should exhaust every effort in preventing interference by a stub track to Stoughton.

AMERICA'S MANUFACTURES

"In the magnitude and the variety of its manufactures," says American Industries, "the United States is far ahead of any other country in the world, and its lead is rapidly lengthening. Here are the principal items in the aggregate of the United States manufactures for 1907:

"Capital, $15,000,000,000;

"Employees, 6,000,000 persons;

"Wages received by them, $3,500,000,000."

"Cost of materials used, $10,000,000,000."

"Value of products, $17,000,000,000;

"Value of exports, $7,000,000,000.

"The value of the products of manufactures has doubled since 1898.

"The value of the exports of manufactures has doubled since 1898.

"The exports of manufactures were 41 per cent of the aggregate exports of all sorts of domestic merchandise in 1906, as compared with 21 per cent of the aggregate in 1894.

"The capital invested in manufactures is almost as great as that represented in railroads.

"In the value of the property represented and in the number of persons employed, manufacturers rank second among the great interests of the United States, agriculture being first. But in each item manufactures is rapidly gaining on agriculture.

"In value of products, manufactures is far ahead of agriculture. And this lead is constantly increasing.

"The capital invested in manufactures represents an eighth of the value of the property of all sorts in the United States, real and personal.

"These figures are calculated to give every American manufacturer a pride in his guild. He belongs to one of the largest and one of the most important callings in the world. And this calling is growing faster and its range is extending further than that of any other of the world's occupations.

"These figures also make a powerful appeal for organization and intelligent co-operation among the manufacturers for the promotion of their own interests and for the advancement and the progress of their country, an appeal that should be heeded."

This startling array of figures speaks volumes for the best nation under the sun, and should inspire gratitude in the heart of every American. It will be noticed that the item of wages is three and one-half billions of dollars—more than one-third the cost of material. The six million employees represent a great army of well-paid workmen, many of whom are acquiring a competency.

The nation has been on the high tide of prosperity, for a number of years. It has proved a trying ordeal, for people generally do not stand prosperity, and yet if we can become accustomed to it in time to check a general stampede, there is no apparent reason why good times should not continue indefinitely.

The hen that lays the golden egg, is confidence, and so long as this is maintained, the nation is safe from calamity.

There is plenty of money to handle all kinds of business, plenty of men who possess the ability to plan and engineer, and plenty of men to execute and develop.

If confidence can be maintained in the ranks of these three great forces, and harmony of action permitted to prevail, the great manufacturing interests will continue to prosper.

The man who attempts to destroy this bond of confidence is an enemy to the country, be he a man of high or low estate, and should be so regarded and treated.

Senator Borah of Idaho, who gained national fame in the Haywood trial, is now before the courts accused of being a party to land frauds. He demanded an early hearing, so that the case might be settled before Congress convenes. From testimony already presented, he is likely to be cleared of the charge.

Wisconsin bonds are in such bad odor, that cities which had voted to buy waterworks plants, now owned by private corporations, are unable to find a market for their securities. Reform legislation is responsible for present monetary conditions.

The labor-makers strike, affecting five railroads centering in St. Paul, is likely to result in failure, as vacancies are being rapidly filled by non-union men.

Vulva, the last relic of Dowdism, has been invited to move on, and Zion City, as a fanatical center, will soon be a thing of the past.

Miss Florence McCarthy has returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends at Richland Center.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Josephus Daniels, democratic national committeeman from North Carolina, is strong in his preference for Bryan as the standard bearer for the democracy in 1908.

Senator Cullom of Illinois has joined his voice to the Cannon boom. He says there is no man so well fitted for the White House as "Joe" Cannon, for the reason that he is the best posted man in the country on the matters that touch the welfare of the people.

Henry B. Gray, at present lieutenant-governor of Alabama, has announced his candidacy for governor of that state. One of the foremost leaders of his platform, he says, will be state prohibition, while further restriction and regulation of railroads will also occupy an important place in his race.

The opinion is gaining ground in Washington that Senator Culverton of Texas, will be elected to the democratic leadership in the upper branch of congress, to succeed former Senator Blackburn of Kentucky. The election of Culverton would break all democratic precedents, in that he has just commenced his second term, and it has been the custom to select a man with much longer service.

Lieutenant Governor Chanler of New York, whose name is mentioned in connection with the democratic presidential nomination, is not yet forty years of age. He is the son of John Wintrop Chanler and Margaret Ward Chanler, the latter a daughter of Samuel Ward, and a granddaughter of William B. Astor. The Lieutenant-governor's father held the office of secretary in Tammany Hall, and represented a New York district in congress for several years.

Frank D. Kitzschenbach, Jr., whom the democrats of New Jersey have nominated for governor, was twice elected mayor of Trenton, though the city is normally republican. As mayor he made a record for two things—voted and speechmaking. He is a good story teller and is ever ready with an apt anecdote with which to elicit an argument. He is a graduate of Princeton University and has won distinction as a lawyer. His friends predict that he will make a fine campaign for the governorship.

Theodore Stark Wilkinson, one of the three candidates in the fight for the democrat gubernatorial nomination in Louisiana traces his ancestry back to old Revolutionary stock, his progenitors on both his fathers' and his mother's side having played prominent parts in the great fight for freedom. On his father's side his great-grandfather was General James Wilkinson, who at the age of only twenty years, wrote the terms of surrender to Gen. Gates at Saratoga. Gen. Wilkinson at the time being on the latter's staff.

Edward F. Neel, who will be the new governor of Mississippi, favors the amendment of the primary election law, of which he is the author, limiting the amount a candidate for state office shall spend in making a canvass. The new governor goes into office pledged not to become a candidate for the United States senate, and he will be the first executive of Mississippi who has made an anti-election pledge of this character.

Astute politicians know that it is always well at watch the state elections in the years immediately preceding the presidential canvass. History has taught them that in all the previous party revolutions in the presidency indications of the coming change were furnished in the state elections of the year immediately previous. This was so in 1869, just be-

"Merode" Underwear

You could buy Underwear costing twice as much as the "Merode" Underwear, but none that would compare with it for elasticity, durability, fineness of finish and perfect shape. A very soft finished thread is used, which is not harsh to the skin, at the same time it is unusually strong and permits greater friction without breaking than any other make. We recommend it especially to stout women who have difficulty in finding a garment that would stretch sufficiently to be comfortable and still have wearing qualities.

Try a "Merode" Union Suit if you wish to experience a new revelation in Underwear goodness.

"Merode" Union Suits for Ladies and Children Are Perfect

We carry full lines of this desirable make of Underwear in all weights and textures—comes in wool, merino, silk and cotton, all-cotton and cotton and wool mixed. It's worth your while to investigate.

What is being said in the corner space day by day
Is not only true but is of vital interest to every reader.
You probably remember the statement that
You can save money by choosing Dr. Richards to do your dentistry.
Not long since mention was made of a party who came here from Shullsburg, Wis., to see Dr. Richards, do the work and after paying it, R. R. fare both ways.
Saved $10 on the dental bill from what the home dentist wanted to charge.

Now comes a party from another neighboring town for a lot of gold hedges work, and after Dr. R. had fairly and squarely set his price it was revealed that he was $25 under what the home dentist wanted to charge for the job.
Of course he got the work to do. He guarantees his work to be of the very highest quality.

This being true, why pay twice what is necessary when by choosing him for your Dentist.

After a three days' legal battle a suit that has been pending in the courts for nearly two years was decided at Dodgeville yesterday in favor of John A. Conductor Collins, in charge of a combination train, was injured while switching at Highland, Sept. 28, 1905, almost two years ago to the day he was awarded damages by the court.

FRENCH STEAMER TRAIN WRECKED

SPECIAL CARRYING AMERICANS HIT BY ROUEN EXPRESS.

NO ONE REPORTED DEAD

Several Occupants of Rear Coach, Which Was Telescoped, Are Injured—Accident Occurs Near Mantes.

Paris, Sept. 26.—The rear coach of the second section of the special train carrying 150 first class passengers from Paris to Cherbourg to embark on the White Star Line steamer Adriatic, for New York, was telescoped Wednesday by the regular Rouen express at the mouth of the Broevel tunnel, just beyond Mantes. Strangely, no one was killed, and according to the latest authentic information, no one was seriously injured.

All the passengers in the last coach, however, were badly shaken up and seven or eight were injured. A man sustained a fractured leg, and a woman, it is feared, suffered internal injuries. All the injured American passengers, with the exception of one, continued on their way to Cherbourg.

Details Not to Be Had.

The officers of the railroad and the White Star Line in Paris were besieged Wednesday afternoon with inquiries for details, but they could supply no definite information. Up to the time of closing for the day they had received neither the names of the persons injured nor definite news regarding the extent of the injuries. All accounts, however, agreed that at the outside not more than two passengers on the special were hurt, and that their injuries were not great.

The collision was due to the negligence of the crew of the special in failing to place either lights or torpedoes on the track behind the train, as required by the regulations when a train halts in a tunnel.

Many Hurt on Rouen Train.

The Rouen train had only French passengers on board. Several cars of this train left the track and 19 of its passengers were injured, one fatally.

On account of the large numbers of home-grown Americans, the Adriatic special was run in two sections. The first one carried first class passengers and the second class baggage. It had cleared the tunnel, which is 800 yards long, when it came to a stop because of accident to the locomotive. The second section was stopped by a block signal as it emerged from the tunnel. This was the situation when the Rouen express came along on the heels of the second section, running 50 miles an hour.

Upon perceiving the red signal, set automatically at the entrance of the tunnel, the engineer of the Rouen express train slowed down, according to regulations, but as no detonators had been placed on the track to give warning of a train ahead, he continued through the tunnel at the rate of 12 miles an hour and crashed into the rear coach of the second section of the special. The engineer of the Rouen express did not leave his post. After the accident he complained that the special was not carrying rear lights and that he could not see her because of the dense smoke in the tunnel.

BATTLE WITH A CRAZY MAN

TERRIBLE STRUGGLE ON BOARD THE LINER MAJESTIC.

Insane Stoker Locks Himself in Surgery and Threatens Murder—Subdued by Pepper and Bullet.

New York, Sept. 26.—The White Star Line steamer Majestic, which arrived at quarantine late Wednesday night from Southampton, Cherbourg and Queenstown, brought the story of a desperate and almost tragic battle that occurred in the ship's surgery one night during the voyage.

Dr. Riversdale French, the ship's physician, narrowly escaped death at the hands of a mad man, Patrick Sheehan, one of the stokers of the vessel, who locked both himself and the doctor in the surgery and who finally had to be shot down by an officer from the ship. The stoker is seriously, but not fatally, wounded.

Sheehan tried to throw himself overboard shortly after the steamer left Queenstown, and Dr. French ordered the man sent to the surgery for an examination. Scarcey had the doctor entered his office when he quickly turned and doubly locked the heavy door. Then he seized a pair of scissars and a sharp surgical knife.

All this was done in a flash, the door being barred before the sailor accompanying the stoker had a chance to force his way inside. The sailor, however, gave the alarm. Capt. Hayes, several under officers and a dozen seamen assembled at the surgery and, looking through the grating in the locked door, could see the mad man standing over the doctor, who sat quietly in his chair. Indeed, it was the nerve and coolness of the surgeon that saved him from being knocked to pieces by the insane man. A violent onslaught on the door would have signaled the doctor's death, and the men outside pleaded with Sheehan to open the door, but he paid no attention to them.

Eventually the crowd in the narrow passageway decided upon a new plan of action. The lattice grating in the top of the door was cautiously unscrewed and removed. To divert Sheehan's attention, two of the seamen continued their pleadings in loud tones. A few minutes later the stoker was induced to turn toward the door, whereupon he was blinded by a mass of pepper thrown full in his eyes through the opening in the transom.

Sheehan slashed wildly at the doctor, but the latter had slipped from his chair and unlocked the door. Sheehan followed blindly. In the passage way he was felled by a dozen men, but he hurled them off. A second attempt to subdue the maniac was equally unsuccessful. This time several of the men felt the points of both shears and knife. The stoker started for Third Officer Norris, trying to stab him. In self-defense the officer was forced to shoot. The bullet entered Sheehan's right hip and lodged in the intestines. He was then overpowered and carried to the hospital.

A large amount of wheat belonging to members of the society is in storage in Duluth and some is in granaries and elevators throughout the state.

It was decided to hold flour for $1.30 at Minneapolis, oats for 70 cents, rye for 41 cents, timothy seed for $5.50 a hundred and hay for $20 a ton.

The union passed resolutions calling for a closer affiliation with the American Federation of Labor and for the union label on all manufactured goods purchased by farmers.

MAY EXTEND WIRE STRIKE

NEW YORK LOCAL WANTS PRESS AND BROKERS' MEN OUT.

Asks National Officers to Have All Contract Operators Throughout Country Quit Work.

New York, Sept. 26.—The New York local of the Commercial Telegraphers' union voted Wednesday night to call out all leased wire operators employed by the press and brokers' offices in this city, if such action shall be sanctioned by the national officers. Action by the national officers will be awaited before anything further is done.

It was voted also to ask the national officers to issue a call for the brokers' and press telegraphers throughout the country to quit work. The demand upon the men who are now working under contract is made in the interests of those who have struck against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

Daniel L. Russell, chairman of the strike committee, who until Wednesday had opposed the movement for a sympathetic strike, made a vigorous speech in which he reversed his position and declared that expediency demanded such a war measure as was proposed. Chester L. Hall, chairman of the Wall street chapel, opposed the motion, but was frequently interrupted, and finally, acknowledging that he could not stop the tide against him, desisted in his attempt to present the matter from the viewpoint of the Wall street operators.

An amendment introduced by John G. McCloskey of the Hearst News Service, exempting from the strike operators of leased wires who were bound by a union contract with their employers, passed six months previous to the strike of the commercial men, was defeated, amid much cheering, and the original resolution passed with little opposition.

After the meeting Chairman Russell said if the present course was not effective, the railroad operators would be called upon to quit work.

CONSPIRACY IN CUBA.

Plot to Start Revolution Backed by New York Capitalists.

Havana, Sept. 26.—A conspiracy to start a revolutionary movement in Cuba has been discovered. Under instructions issued by Gov. Magoon, a number of suspicious persons believed to be connected with the conspiracy have been shadowed for several days past. It is believed that the movement is backed by New York capitalists.

Gov. Magoon has been aware for several days past that certain individuals were conspiring against the government, but he did not attach to the matter much importance, owing to the fact that those persons were under constant surveillance, and that the Cuban rural guard and the American forces in the island had been so assigned as to be able to crush any such movement in a few hours' time.

The fact that the governor was ignorant of the conspiracy and the movements of the agitators seems to have served to suppress the threatened outbreak, and advice received by the government Wednesday night from all the provinces show that there is no ground for apprehension.

PRESIDENT IN CAPITAL AGAIN.

Mr. Roosevelt and Family Return from Oyster Bay.

Washington, Sept. 26.—President Roosevelt arrived here from his summer vacation at Oyster Bay at 5:57 p. m. Wednesday while Washington was at dinner, yet a large crowd was at the Pennsylvania railroad station to greet him. Most of the way from Oyster Bay the special train bearing the president, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel and Quentin, and the executive staff, ran ahead of time and therefore a slow trip was made from Baltimore to Washington. In spite of this the train pulled in three minutes ahead of time.

Postmaster General Meyer, Secretary Straus, Assistant Secretary Murray of the department of commerce and labor and a number of other federal officials met the president at his car and accompanied him to his carriage in Sixth street, where it was surrounded with people who cheered lustily.

DO YOU WANT TO EARN A PIANO?

THIS BEAUTIFUL
STORY & CLARK
PIANO
SOMEBODY
FREE.

In addition numerous other prizes will be given away.

WE EMPLOY NO CANVASSERS.

We want the name of every householder in Janesville, Beloit, Monroe, Evansville, and vicinity who does not own an upright piano. We have taken this method to obtain them quickly.

To the person sending in the largest number of names of heads of households who have no upright piano, with correct street address, and after list is verified by the judges, we will deliver to such person, free of expense, the $350.00 Story & Clark Piano illustrated above.

In addition to the above, for the name and address of each party marked special, you send us, who contemplates purchasing a piano before Oct. 31, 1907, you will receive a certificate of $10 for each name, which we will credit as payment on a piano, or pay you the amount in cash, if we sell such parties a piano before Oct. 31, 1907.

In the event of a tie happening between successful contestants, prizes identical in character and value will be given to each.

CONDITIONS

Only names of heads of households not owning an upright piano, with proper street or P. O. address, will be counted.

Names of heads of households living in rural district outside of city, town or village limits will be counted as two names owing to difficult canvassing.

No names of children, minors, or of persons owning upright pianos will be counted.

Names of heads of households who now have square piano or organ can be included in the list.

But one name in each household, though names may be different, will be counted.

Number each name and total it at the bottom of the list, and write your name and address plainly.

All lists must be in our office in Janesville, Wis., before Oct. 5, 1907.

Your name will not be known in connection with these lists in any way, as we only want the names for the purpose of mailing our advertising matter.

Only individual lists will be counted.

If any of the conditions are violated the entire list will be thrown out.

You will be surprised to find how few names you will be able to send; hence do not be discouraged if your list is small.

The following well-known citizens of Janesville, Beloit, Monroe and Evansville will act as judges: District Attorney John L. Fisher, Mayor S. B. Hedges, Janesville; Edward Hanson, Cashier Beloit Savings Bank, Beloit; Prof. A. H. Sholtz, Supt. Schools, Evansville; J. M. Stauffacher, County Clerk Green county, Monroe, Wis.

DANCING PARTY AT THE PARISH HALL

Twenty-five Couples Enjoyed a Delightful Evening as Guests of the Misses Marcia and Margaret Jackman.

[INFERIOR TO THE GAZETTE.]

Twenty-five couples were guests of the Misses Marcia and Margaret Jackman last evening at a dancing party given at the Christ Episcopal parish hall. The ball room was decorated with roses, gladiolas, and other autumn flowers and after the brief reception, Roy Carter played an exceptionally fine program of musical numbers which lasted until one o'clock this morning. Frappe was dispensed at a little booth in one corner of the hall and at eleven o'clock a delicious luncheon was served in the Sunday school rooms on the first floor, where tastefully decorated with roses and lighted candles added much to the attractiveness of the scene. The enjoyment of the festivity was measurably increased by the introduction of several cotillion figures and the presence of an unusually large number of out-of-town guests, including Miss Sibley of Edgewater, Ill., who is a guest of Miss Hazel Spencer, Miss Frances Butterfield of Moscow, Idaho, Walter Darling of Crystal Falls, Mich., Isaac Dahl and Harry Atwood of Minneapolis, Prof. Evans and Prof. J. F. A. Pace of Madison, Owen C. Orr of St. Joseph, Mo., Lloyd Peters of Chicago, and Wilbur Kettlebridge of Oak Park, Ill.

[INFERIOR TO THE GAZETTE.]

Hundreds of farmers have searched in vain for her. On the night of Sept. 5, she retired with her husband as usual. Two hours later her husband awoke, shivering from a draught of air from an open window in the bedroom. The woman was gone.

Two years ago she figured in a similar adventure, but returned alive.

MILLINERY OPENING and SALE

Tomorrow we throw all traditions and customs to the winds by turning our Fall Millinery Opening into something more than a mere exhibition. It is to be a sale of unprecedented importance. Every Trimmed Hat will be marked with a SPECIAL OPENING SALE PRICE.

Tomorrow and all next week, will be an epoch maker in the Janesville millinery world. The exhibition will include some of the best examples of the most famous New York milliners. To say that any one color is to dominate fall millinery would not be a statement of facts. Much prominence is given to purple, mahogany, brown, leather, dark wine, shading into a deep rose.

Come and enjoy the exhibition and take advantage of the money-saving sale prices. It's a saving of $2 to $3 on every hat whether you pay $1.00, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00, or up to the imported models at $10.50.

OUR MANUFACTURER'S STOVE SALE

attracted the buyers. Ever since the announcement of this great sale, The White House has been the mecca for stove buyers. Some admitted that it was their intention to buy a mail order Stove, but upon investigation satisfied themselves that it would be a very unwise thing to do. They find our prices reasonable, and we can prove our profits are no greater than those of mail order houses, besides, we sell Stoves of national reputation, like The Jewell, The Garland, The Quick Meal, Cole's Hot Blast, guaranteed by the makers to be full weight, high grade Stoves which will last and give satisfaction.

will continue until October 5th. We are anxious to largely increase our stove business this fall and to induce quick buying and early sales we are offering extra big values. Come and see the stoves, even though you do not want to buy. We want to demonstrate why our base burners give one-third more heat with one-third less fuel than any other base burner.

THE BIGGEST BAR-GAINS ever offered await you, for every dollar we ask we will give you dollar's value in return and you cannot do better than this. We cannot tell all the good features of these stoves in an ad, but if you will call at The White House we shall be glad to explain in detail. Won't you come during this great sale?

FRESH REFRESHMENTS each afternoon and all day Saturday. Coffee and refreshments will be served. See how biscuits are baked in three minutes and learn how a good steel range should be made.
